ABSTRACT:

Being true homoeopaths all of us know about our great medicine Apis mellifica which is prepared from honey bee. Bees have been revered since prehistoric times for their "divine gifts and mysterious powers." They have evolved over 90 million years along with flowering plants. But do we also know about the sweeter aspect of our Apis mellifica called as honey? What would be the word which when uttered causes mouth watering? It makes you remember the sweetest thing in the world? Yes it is in front of your eyes the thick viscous juicy matter Honey? It is rightly said nothing can be bitter than bitter guard nothing can be watery that water melon and nothing can be so sweet as Honey.
