ABSTRACT:

Uterine fibroids, also known as uterine leiomyomas, uterine myomas, myomas, fibromyomas or fibroleiomyomas, are the most common form of benign uterine tumors affecting women. A patient reported with symptoms of profuse menses with pain in lower abdomen for last 4 years. The ultrasonography of abdomen revealed an anterior wall uterine myoma of size 5.2x4.5cm. after case taking and repertorization Kali carb 200 was prescribed initially and later Kali carb 1m was prescribed. Overall improvement was noticed clinically and size of uterine myoma was seen in ultrasonography report after five months of Homoeopathic treatment. This case is presented here to show the effectiveness of Homoeopathic medicine selected on constitutional basis in the treatment of uterine fibroid.
